

Children's Suits.

The Sailor and Russian Blouse Suits, with some variations from last season, are still first favorites for the little fellows.

We have the most attractive display of these goods that we've ever shown.

They're beautifully finished and they'll wear well.

Then we have the VESTEE SUITS, sizes 3 to 8 years.

And TWO-PIECE SUITS, sizes 7 to 16 years.

And KNIE PANTS SUITS with VESTS, for Boys, age 11 to 16.

Then we go to the SUITS for larger Boys, from sizes 14 to Young Men of 18 years.

The style this season in shapes of garments, make and trimming, the quality of the fabrics and the stylish patterns are far ahead of any we have ever shown.

BURGLARS TAKE CHARGE OF TOWN.

Use a Watchman as Shield Against Bullets of an Attacking Force.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 12.—Early today burglars, who had previously blown open the safe in the office of the United States Graphite Company and secured $30 in cash and $50 in checks, terrorized the inhabitants of the village of Saginaw, near here.

They captured Night Watchman Jones, and bound and gagged him. Then they took him to Harden's hardware store, where they blew open the safe.

Unable to open the strong box, they made the watchman conduct them to Harden's home, expecting to compel Harden to go to his store and open the cash drawer of the safe.

Harden was prepared for them and opened fire. The burglars used the captive watchman as a shield to Harden's fire. Jones was shot in the hand, but none of the burglars was hit. The shooting aroused the villagers and the burglars fled.

CARLYLE CITIZENS INDIGNANT.

Incorrect Statement of Mortality Statistics Were Published.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Carlyle, Ill., Oct. 12.—In a recent issue of a St. Louis paper there appeared an article which purported to give a resume of the mortality statistics, as collected by the Marine Hospital Service of Washington, D. C. In that article it was alleged that 300 deaths had occurred in the city of Carlyle during the year 1900, and further stated that this city had the highest mortality rate in proportion to population of any town in the United States. This has given Carlyle an unfavorable and undesired notoriety, which the citizens do not appreciate. Efforts are being made to ascertain the identity of the person who is responsible for the glaring falsehood.

The facts in the matter are that Carlyle is one of the most healthy towns in the State. The records of the two cemeteries here show that thirty-one deaths occurred in the city during the year of 1900, or these deaths twelve were persons ranging in ages from 50 to 90 years, nine from 15 to 35, and the balance of ten were infants from two days old to three years of age. The congregation here, composed of 110 families, there were only five deaths during that period.

ATHLETE'S FAILURE.

Was Not a Success Until He Was Put on the Right Food.

Oceanus X. Hale, of 1117 Barclay St., Baltimore, Md., now quite a famous runner, has had some interesting experience in regard to proper feeding. His testimony is worth the attention of any athlete, or, in fact, of any person who cares for good, sturdy, powerful health.

"Up to about 18 months ago, I had been in many athletic contests, without much success. I about bade up my mind it was time to stop, but a physical director of the Y. M. C. A. of this city advised me to use Grape-Nuts food and Postum Cereal. I accepted the advice and to-day am in possession of perfect health and a great many medals won in different athletic events. I can now run a race and finish in fine condition, whereas before I started on the right diet, I would find myself in a faint at the end of a race."

"Formerly I had more or less nervous trouble and severe headaches. I am glad to say since using Grape-Nuts and Postum Food I have forgotten what a headache feels like. My heart is in perfect condition, whereas before I was using ordinary coffee it would not stand the heavy strain."

"The statement is absolutely true, and I do not object to your publishing it, for it may bring back health and strength to some poor being suffering from ill-health, caused by the use of improper food."

There is a reason for this: In the first place, ordinary coffee will show its effects somewhere in the nervous system—frequently in weakening of the heart or in stomach troubles, which prevents one from obtaining the strength and value of food. It is, therefore, necessary to quit the use of this drug, and in its place use Postum Cereal Food and Grape-Nuts Food.

They were both invented by a food expert and are made at the famous pure-food factories of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., at Battle Creek, Mich. This food and the food drink are both made for a definite purpose, and there are thousands of users throughout the world that can testify, from practical experience, that the theory is borne out by the facts.

TELEGRAPHERS TO MEET IN ST. LOUIS.

Two Hundred Delegates to Nineteenth Annual Convention Will Convene at Druid's Hall.

Two hundred delegates of the order of Railway Telegraphers from all points in the United States, Canada and Mexico, will be in St. Louis to-morrow to attend the sessions of the nineteenth international convention of their order, which will be held in Druid's Hall, corner of Ninth and Market streets, for the rest of the week.

The first session will begin to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, and the convention will continue until next Monday. President M. M. Delphin says there will be no discussion of the wage scales in effect on various railroads, and that the relations existing between members of the order and the railway companies are pleasant.

"The business of the convention," said Mr. Delphin, "will be confined to the revision of the order's constitution and by-laws, and the election of a president, grand secretary and treasurer, three vice-presidents and two members of the Board of Directors and Insurance Committee."

The present incumbents of these positions, it is thought, will be re-elected.

The Order of Railway Telegraphers was organized in 1880, and, inclusive of the Brotherhood of Commercial Telegraphers, has a membership of 2,500. The organization is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and with the American Federation of Railway Employees, which is composed of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors.

SHOT THREE BOYS.

Young Lad Demonstrates His Abilities as a Marksman.

Silver Creek, Neb., Oct. 12.—As the result of a quarrel over his ability to shoot straight, Thomas Baubur, Andrew Nowakski and Gustave Gronow were wounded seriously by Jake Struman at Duncan, Neb.

He deliberately shot the boys to demonstrate his ability with the weapon. Struman is 14 years old. The other boys are about the same age. Baubur is shot in the head and is not expected to live. The others were shot in the leg and shoulder.

MISSOURI SUPREME COURT.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 12.—The following were the proceedings in the Supreme Court to-day: DIVISION NO. 1.

The case of Armstrong v. Johnson, from Greene County, was transferred to the St. Louis court of appeals for judgment in the case of the Supreme Court.

Since W. A. Webb, also from Greene County, was dismissed for failure to comply with the rules, the following cases were also dismissed for the same reason: Benjamin Kerley et al. vs. John O'Day et al., from Greene County, a record containing more than a thousand pages; Carter vs. Nelson, from Jasper County, and Bailey vs. Green, from Greene County. In the case of the plaintiffs had filed no briefs or abstracts, and the court was unable to hear the case.

The case of Webb vs. Layden was argued by R. W. Curry of Webb City for plaintiff, and submitted in briefs by Howard H. Hays of Carthage and Frank L. Forney of Webb City, representing the defendant.

The case of Lawrence vs. Hensley, from Jackson County, a suit for the recovery of a contract, was argued by the attorney for the plaintiff, and the case was submitted in briefs to the court by the defendant, J. C. Palmer of Kansas City, the plaintiffs submitting their case on briefs of their counsel, Thomas A. Hockley and McDevitts & Halliburton of Carthage.

From the case of Johnson vs. Johnson, both submitted on briefs.

The case of Webb vs. Layden, which, though not on the bench, remains open from day to day for the filing of briefs, was argued by R. W. Curry of Webb City for plaintiff, and submitted in briefs by Howard H. Hays of Carthage and Frank L. Forney of Webb City, representing the defendant.

The case of Lawrence vs. Hensley, from Jackson County, a suit for the recovery of a contract, was argued by the attorney for the plaintiff, and the case was submitted in briefs to the court by the defendant, J. LAWSON SAYS HE WAS HARD HIT BY THE CRASH IN COPPER.

Declares That, Although He Was and Is the Largest Holder of Amalgamated Stocks, He Was Not Prepared for the Reduction of Dividend and Did Not Dispose of a Single Share.

PAPER LOSSES WERE $4,000,000; REAL, $3,000,000.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Boston, Mass., Oct. 12.—Various rumors having been put into circulation regarding the financial standing of Thomas W. Lawson, the Republic's correspondent has obtained an authoritative statement from Mr. Lawson as to recent operations, the crash in Amalgamated stock and the copper situation in general. Mr. Lawson's name has been synonymous with copper for several years. The Amalgamated Copper Company was to a certain extent the child of his brain. It was he who suggested such a possibility to the other capitalists, generally known as the "Standard Oil people," and just before the crash he had predicted that it would sell at 180.

The natural deduction suggested two possibilities. One was that, if Mr. Lawson was interested in Amalgamated to anything like the extent it was popularly supposed he was interested, he must have been hit for millions—perhaps ruined. The alternative was the belief that he had received advance information of the coming storm and had taken in sail as a prudent mariner would—in other words, had unloaded his holdings of stock on the market.

Great Question on the Street. Whichever way the sun was viewed, Mr. Lawson seemed to be impaled upon a horn of the dilemma. If the crash had come to him without warning it would appear that his late business associates had failed to "tip him off" and had left him to stand the brunt of the other capitalists, generally known as the "Standard Oil people," and just before the crash he had predicted that it would sell at 180.

Did Not Sell a Single Share. Then you are to-day one of the largest holders of Amalgamated stock?"

Mr. Lawson submitted to an interview today, in the course of which he was asked the direct question: "Now, Mr. Lawson, did you know, or had you any reason to believe, prior to the time the Amalgamated dividend was reduced that it was to be reduced, or anything unfavorable was to be done at the meeting of the directors on the Friday afternoon when the dividend was reduced?"

Mr. Lawson smiled at the query. "That's your same old question in another form. After a moment's consideration he added: "However, I don't have any objection to answering it. I will say this: I did not know the dividend was to be reduced. I had no reason to think it was to be reduced. I had no reason to think anything unfavorable was to be done at that meeting, but on the contrary, I had every reason to believe that the dividend would not be reduced."

Mr. Lawson's answer to the question, "Did you know, or had you any reason to believe, prior to the time the Amalgamated dividend was reduced that it was to be reduced, or anything unfavorable was to be done at the meeting of the directors on the Friday afternoon when the dividend was reduced?"
